

Electrical Stamping

These rods are formulated in two different manner- Externally threaded and internally threaded.

Vipul Copper offers its range of customers across globe with net shape metal product as per the demand of the market. Our research lab are specialised to create perfect shape metal dialect as per customer requirement.

Vipul Copper recreate flat sheets into ultimate product using stamping press where all the sheets goes through a strenuous process of blanking, embossing, bending, flanging, and coining, which can be a single staged or multiple stage process, to ensure the final product is of superior quality. Certified by international quality process we ensure that our customer gets the best of the quality product that they require.

